Introduction

In March 2010, Provo City formed a 20-member visioning steering committee to provide guidance on what Provo City should be by the year 2030. The purpose of this process was to provide consistent long-term direction to municipal decision-making in areas not typically addressed by a general plan or other tools used in Provo’s strategic planning.

Under the direction of Mayor John Curtis and the municipal council, a steering committee developed an aspirational Community Vision Statement and specifically identified eight Provo Core Values. With the guidance of these documents, 14 subcommittees, consisting of interested individuals with strong ties to Provo City, were formed to provide policy direction within the scope of their respective topics. These topics are as follows:

- Education
- Natural Resources
- Families and Neighborhoods
- Prosperity
- Healthcare
- Public and Non-Profit Partnerships
- Heritage
- Safety
- Image and Communication
- Transportation and Mobility
- Land Use and Growth
- Unity
- Leisure
- Governance

Each subcommittee has provided a unique vision statement that describes expectations to be met by the year 2030. Goals and objectives follow each vision statement. The proposed goals and objectives are meant to be measurable and achievable within a 20-year period.

Provo City is grateful to the many individuals who willingly provided both time and talent to serve on the steering committee and the various subcommittees to provide a compass to lead the city for many years.

Objective 1.7.1 Have effective communication tools in place to disseminate information to the public.
Objective 1.7.2 Improve the emergency notification system to better inform the public and keep neighborhoods safe.
Section 2: Land Use and Growth

Provo is a city where families and individuals feel safe, where land use is planned and zoned to promote a vibrant and active downtown, quiet residential neighborhoods, and a thriving commercial and environmentally sensitive industrial tax base. The city is balanced appropriately to encourage an exceptional quality of life. As a maturing city, with a limited amount of undeveloped land remaining, the focus for land use is on quality rather than quantity.

Goal 2.1 - Protect existing owner-occupied housing and neighborhoods and encourage an increased percentage of owner-occupied or long-term residency housing in Provo neighborhoods.

Objective 2.1.1 Identify exceptional areas that would benefit from area specific master plans, where the city would conduct a detailed land-use analysis. The objective is for a plan for every neighborhood.

Objective 2.1.2 Develop strategies to increase owner-occupancy or long-term residency in the city’s residential neighborhoods.

Goal 2.5 - Facilitate environmentally sensitive industrial land use and development to contribute to employment opportunities and the city’s tax base without negatively impacting quality of life.

Objective 2.5.1 Accommodate an appropriate amount of industrial growth in the city.
Section 3: Leisure

Provo City is nationally recognized as one of America’s most livable cities. Provo’s natural recreational amenities and varied leisure opportunities are integral parts of its outstanding quality of life and livability.

Mankind has always sought opportunities to relax, restore, and invigorate the mind and body. The pursuit of and participation in leisure activities are essential factors in health and well-being.

Provo’s excellent opportunities for cultural arts, entertainment, and recreation for all citizens are among the best in the Intermountain West. These opportunities are essential for all ages because they improve the quality of life for those who participate regularly. Providing a wide range of recreational opportunities that appeal to the largest cross-section of our citizens is a primary goal of Provo City.

Master Plan

Develop a new recreational facilities master plan that will include the following goals and objectives:

Goal 3.1 - Establish a system of attractive parks and recreational facilities that will provide a complete range of activities for all age groups.

Objective 3.1.1 Work toward implementing Chapter Seven of Provo City’s General Plan, “Parks, Recreation and Open Space” (“the Parks Master Plan”), which includes the even and fair distribution of park space throughout the city.

Objective 3.1.2 In the Parks Master Plan, identify potential parkland in growth areas within the city.

Objective 3.1.3 When applicable, require developers to dedicate a specified amount of approved open space for parks, or to pay a park impact fee in lieu of open space dedication.

Objective 3.1.4 Adapt park amenities as neighborhoods change. Established parks should have, if applicable, family and group-friendly seating, fire pits, benches, pavilions, and walking/jogging areas.

Objective 3.1.5 Include in park planning sports parks, family-oriented parks, “theme” parks, small neighborhood and pocket parks, linear parks, children specific parks, dog parks, skate parks, sledding parks, and discovery parks.

Objective 3.1.6 Ensure that parks have sufficient parking for those times of year when the parks are busiest.
Goal 3.2 - Augment the Provo City General Plan for pedestrian paths, trails, and on-street bike ways, including multi-use trails for pedestrians, equestrians, and motorized vehicles. On all trail systems, installation of safety features has high priority.

Objective 3.2.1 Ensure that all trails interconnect with existing trail heads and proposed trail heads at Little Rock Canyon, Rock Canyon, and Slate Canyon.

Objective 3.2.2 Ensure that trail heads at Little Rock Canyon, Rock Canyon, and Slate Canyon have trails that connect to the Bonneville-Shoreline, Great Western, Provo River, and South Fork trails.

Objective 3.2.3 Connect parks within the city to clearly identified trail systems, as far as possible.

Objective 3.2.4 Develop neighborhood walking, jogging, and biking trails with clear signage and safety features, and make them easily accessible for all age groups.

Objective 3.2.5 Develop the proposed roadway that goes from the East Bay interchange to 2000 North to include a pedestrian, biking, and equestrian trail leading to Utah Lake and the Provo River Parkway Trail.

Goal 3.5 - Establish a recreational beach near the Utah Lake boat harbor.

Objective 3.5.1 Include necessary infrastructure and facilities such as restrooms, clothing changing stations, picnic areas, etc.

Goal 3.6 - Develop a new city recreation facility and park complex.

Objective 3.6.1 Build a city recreation facility which will:
- Develop a sense of community
- Foster a healthy lifestyle and wellness
- Enhance civic pride
- Be versatile and adaptable to meet the needs of all elements of the community

Goal 3.7 - Include a senior citizens’ center in the community recreation complex to more adequately meet the needs of our senior citizens.

Objective 3.7.1 Improve and develop recreational programs that provide a diverse schedule of activities.
Objective 3.7.2 Establish a senior citizens council to monitor senior needs, and recommend programs and activities to accommodate the growing senior population.

Goal 3.8 - Obtain ongoing revenue for the funding of parks, entertainment, and recreation.

Objective 3.8.1 Educate and inform voters of the options of creating a RAP tax for on-going recreational funding, with the intent of putting this on the ballot.
Section 4: Natural Resources

The best elements of Provo’s natural resources, including Provo River, Utah Lake, high quality potable water, clean air and beautiful canyons, foothills, and mountains are preserved and protected from the adverse impacts of increased population and potential environmental pollution. Impairments to these natural resources have been remedied by a plan of action adopted by the leadership of Provo City.

In an effort to protect its natural resources, Provo responsibly provides electrical energy to its citizens. Provo enjoys very low energy rates and profits in many ways from its municipal power company. Provo also benefits from its association with the Utah Municipal Power Association (UMPA) where Provo is the largest consumer of energy among UMPA participants. Provo provides residents, businesses, educational institutions and industries with reliable, low-cost electrical energy with attractive or non-intrusive delivery systems and seeks the same qualities in heating, transportation and other energy needs.

Goal 4.1 - Work effectively as a city and with other governmental agencies and private organizations to protect, preserve, and restore its natural resources in the surrounding mountains, canyons, and foothills; in the wetlands, shorelines, and riverbanks; and in all city parks; and develop a city-wide culture of pro-active stewardship to preserve the ecological integrity of these resources.

Objective 4.1.1 Regularly assess the current ecological health of Provo City.
Objective 4.1.2 Increase public education and awareness of the city’s natural resources.
Objective 4.1.3 Reduce the adverse impacts of growth, development and environmental pollution.

Objective 4.1.4 Encourage resource preservation through greater participation in recycling and energy conservation efforts.

Goal 4.2 - Ensure that Provo River is a year-round stream with protected flows that provide both spawning and rearing habitat for native fish species (e.g., June Sucker) and seasonal sport species; support and sustain general fishing use; and develop trail access to the river, which will be free-flowing from Provo Canyon to a re-established delta area that enters Utah Lake.

Objective 4.2.1 Establish minimum flows in Provo River based on a natural hydrograph and user needs and Objective 4.2.2 Improve public access to and use of the Provo River.
Objective 4.2.3 Protect and enhance lands adjacent to Provo River.

Goal 4.3 - Maintain the current high quality of Provo's groundwater resources, both springs and aquifers, and protect them from contamination and reduction in quantity. Watersheds contributing to water sources will also be managed to protect both surface water quality and recharge of groundwater resources.

Objective 4.3.1 Protect both current and future drinking water sources for Provo City.
Objective 4.3.2 Manage watersheds for the protection of drinking water sources and to protect the water quality of surface waters.
Objective 4.3.3 Improve water use efficiency in Provo.
Goal 4.4 - Improve air quality to meet or exceed all national and state standards for PM2.5, PM10, ozone and carbon dioxide because clean air will improve the health of our residents, aid in recruiting new businesses, increase tourism, and reduce dependence on fossil fuels.

Objective 4.4.1 Clean our air with a sustained, energetic, multi-faceted approach.

Goal 4.5 - Recognize that Utah Lake is a focal point of local natural resources systems that contribute to the environmental health, economic prosperity, and quality of life of area residents and visitors. Through collaborative restoration, protection, and sustainable-use efforts, the lake and its multiple-use amenities are fully recognized, enjoyed, and protected for current and future generations.

Objective 4.5.1 Keep portions of the lakefront and wetland areas in a natural state. Identify and protect wildlife corridors, and encourage less impactful uses (trail use, hiking, birding, and photography) focused on ecological attributes and experiences.

Objective 4.5.2 Provide a range of educational opportunities that complement the recreational experience and showcase the lake’s physical characteristics, biological uniqueness, and cultural resources, as well as its socio-economic significance.

Objective 4.5.3 Control and effectively manage existing invasive species (e.g., carp and phragmites) to minimize their negative effects on Utah Lake natural resources. Implement programs to prevent additional invasions.

Objective 4.5.4 Pursue site-specific enhancements and engineering solutions (e.g., re-created deltas, urban and riparian forests, mixed-use storm water detention areas, selective dredging and diking, re-vegetation) consistent with the Utah Lake Master Plan.

Objective 4.5.5 Attain high-quality water (chemically, biologically, and visually) free from deleterious contaminants and suitable for its beneficial uses.
Goal 4.6 - Maintain familiarity with the Energy Plans for the United States (currently to 2035) and the State of Utah (currently to 2020) and understand the impacts of these plans on Provo.

Goal 4.7 - Continue providing electricity through public power (Provo Energy Department) in association with the UMPA, working to maintain low electrical energy costs, including the sale of excess power on the market, and to develop plans to implement the following objectives in a timely manner.

Objective 4.7.1 Maintain the electrical energy delivery infrastructure at a high level to provide stable, reliable energy, while also working to improve the attractiveness of the city by making delivery systems less obtrusive (i.e., power poles, substations, service stations, etc.).

Objective 4.7.2 Implement new advances in electrical energy delivery and control systems (i.e., smart grid, smart houses) as they become practical and economically feasible.

Objective 4.7.3 Work with residential, commercial, educational and industrial customers to identify and implement energy savings through increases in consumption efficiency and reduction in use of energy in a cost-effective manner.

Objective 4.7.4 Cooperate with customers who privately generate renewable energy resources (i.e., wind, solar).

Goal 4.8 - Work with UMPA to continue to seek long-term electrical energy resources which provide for stable and generally lower cost of electricity.

Objective 4.8.1 Seek opportunities to diversify energy resources in a cost-effective manner, including increasing energy percentages from renewable and alternative sources.

Objective 4.8.2 Seek opportunities for consumer alternatives to purchase energy from renewable resources.
Section 5: Education

Provo City is fortunate to have high-quality public and private institutions of higher education as partners. City leaders recognize the value of an educated citizenry by encouraging expansion and support of all educational institutions. The educational institutions help create important skills development and cultural experiences for all ages. Access to the best technology, opportunities for post-secondary education, and a commitment to zoning that enhances and encourages home ownership or long-term residency will continue to strengthen the citizens of Provo over the next 20 years.

Goal 5.1 - Excel and lead in utilizing the talents and contributions of the diverse population of Provo City, recognizing that for a city with our needs, strengths, and vulnerabilities, we can and must do better than other communities in making our diversity a strength for the city—not merely as something to accommodate, but as something that makes the city attractive and vital.

Objective 5.1.1 Recognize and foster the development of the economic and human potential as well as the talents of Provo’s diverse population.

Goal 5.2 - Pro-actively improve technological infrastructure to attract and retain residents and businesses, which will provide increased technological literacy, improve workforce training, increase access to technology, and enhance technological educational services.

Objective 5.2.1 Ensure a technological infrastructure that can support and sustain individual, educational, and business demands. The infrastructure should enable the access and use of the best proven technology tools.

Objective 5.2.2 Supply residents of all socioeconomic backgrounds with more autonomy for learning and equal access to basic 21st century skills, and partner with high-quality educational institutions to provide quality online learning opportunities.

Objective 5.2.3 Provo City recognizes the risks associated with free and open access to the Internet. To combat such risks, Provo City feels the responsibility to provide safe and secure Internet access and community training.

Objective 5.2.4 Form collaborative teams of diverse community members and organizations with the goal of establishing funding and partnership opportunities that will enhance Provo’s technology services. Understand the need to be fiscally prudent and the benefits of using Provo’s greatest resource which is Provo’s people.
Goal 5.3 - Encourage stability and owner occupancy in Provo's housing stock by recognizing that zoning and land use have a significant and direct impact on the local school district and the district's ability to educate its students. Families that are unstable in terms of their location within the community make educating their children a daunting challenge for the school system.

Objective 5.3.1 Because as of 2011, 60 percent of Provo's housing stock was not owner occupied, owner occupancy or long-term residency in new housing developments should be encouraged, especially in developments designed and marketed as non-student multi-family, or attached, housing.

Objective 5.3.2 Emphasize continued renewal and beautification of the city's older sections.

Objective 5.3.3 Encourage a diverse population within Provo, blend home ownership with rental housing in developments that are not meant for college-student housing.

Objective 5.3.4 Avoid concentrating large numbers of rental housing, either in one development or within one neighborhood, outside of areas intended for college student housing.

Objective 5.3.5 Work together with the local school organizations to create educational opportunities for land use (outdoor classrooms, conservation, sustainable development practices, etc.) and continue to partner with these organizations regarding facilities management and recreation.
Goal 5.4 - Encourage and foster quality educational opportunities and networks to sustain and enhance economic development, recognizing that economic development is dependent upon the strength and quality of the city’s educational network (K-12 through higher education) and the level of educational attainment of its residents.

Objective 5.4.1 Engage Provo businesses in educational partnerships, sponsorships, internships or volunteer opportunities.

Objective 5.4.2 Support economic endeavors where higher education-generated technologies, ideas, and entrepreneurial activities can flourish into profitable businesses.
